Cardwell Hill Cellars is a family-owned Oregon boutique winery producing about 8000 cases per year. Sustainable agriculture practices were used to achieve premium quality fruit that is hand harvested. These practices are certified sustainable by Salmon Safe and LIVE (Low Impact Viticulture and Enology) the parent organizations

Cardwell Hill Cellars proudly releases another vintage of Wädenswil clone of Pinot Noir planted in 1983. The owners purchased an abandoned vineyard in 2000. Fourteen acres of miscellaneous vines were removed leaving about 3,600 of self-rooted Wädenswil clones of pinot noir. This heritage block produces large rich clusters that make a superb wine. This special bottling is comprised of the best barrels of the Wädenswil clone which reflect the 35 years of maturity. Nine barrels were selected by the winemaker for their intensity of color and fullness of flavor. The fruit was destemmed, cold soaked for 30 hours and then fermented at temperature's not to exceed 85F. The cap that develops in open top fermenters was punched down twice daily. Next the wine was fed by gravity from the fermentation deck into the barrel room. Following malolactic fermentation, the wine was racked from the lees. It was aged in French Oak barrels for a total of thirty months.
